

IF YOU SELL TEA, MILADY,
THE QUEEN MAY SNUB YOU.

This Seems to Be the Warning in the Case of Lady de Grey.

New York society is interested in the case of the Countess de Grey, concerning whom Her Majesty's Lord Chamberlain has made announcement that she is not to be formally received hereafter at Court.

Now, there has been no fatal scandal attached to the name of this fair lady. She is a dashing and popular beauty and a dear friend of the Princess of Wales.

But Lady de Grey has opened a room in London in partnership with a well-established provider of hospitality. It is then that the warning in her case is that no gentle lady who enters to be received by the Queen must sell tea, or, for that matter, go into any trade at all.

And if this is the dictum of the first lady of England, what effect is it to have on New York society, which has seen members of its shining feminine light take to millinery and allied occupations? The Countess de Grey was, before taking up her present estate, the widow of the Earl of Londesborough. One of her brothers is Lord Pembroke, the Lord Steward of the Queen's Household. The other brother married Miss Wilson, an old city sister of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. Ogden Gould.

Extravagance has been the besetting sin of the titled dispenser of tea. It has been a family tradition that the weakness, exceeding the bounds of a husband's generosity, may have led to her venture into trade.

The story is the same, no matter what her station in life may be. If she is one of the favored daughters of wealth, if she belongs even to the realm of the "well-to-do," or—

If she belongs to the unnumbered thousands who must work in order to live—

The story is just the same; all suffer from about the same cause, and in this suffering "peculiar to women," all reach the same level, and all are of the same family.

When a woman is nervous and irritable, head and back ache, feels tired all the time, loses sleep and appetite, has pains in groins, bearing-down sensation, whites and irregularities, she is not "worn out," but feels as if she were.

Such symptoms tell her that a womb trouble is imminent, and she cannot act too promptly if she values her future comfort and happiness.

The experience and testimony of some of the most noted women of America go to prove, beyond a question, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all such trouble at once by removing the cause and restoring the organs to a healthy and normal condition. If in doubt, write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., as thousands do.

MRS. KELLOGG'S STATEMENT.

"One year ago I read a letter in a paper telling how much good one woman had derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had been sick all winter, and was nearly discouraged, as the medicine the doctor gave me did me no good. I had kidney complaint, leucorrhea, itching, bearing-down feeling, and painful menstruation. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham, describing my trouble, and soon received an answer telling me what to do. I followed her instructions and have taken nine bottles of the Compound and used one package of Sarsaparilla and one box of Liver Pills. I am well now, do not have those sick spells at the monthly period, but can work all day, and that I never could do until I began taking the Compound. I cannot praise the Compound too highly.

I do hope every suffering woman will learn of the Pinkham remedies and be cured as I have been. On the same floor, in the rear, live the National City Bank of Lynn, Mass., $500,000 capital, which will be paid to any person who will show that the above testimonial is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission. LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO.

$5000 REWARD I wish all success to the Compound; it has done wonders for me, and I am so thankful."—MRS. GERIE KELLOGG, Berlin Heights, Ohio.

FIVE POISONED CHILD STOLE BY PTOMAINES. FOR MOTHER.

Members of Clinton Family Stricken in the Bronx.

The death of Miriam Clinton from ptomaine poisoning and the narrow escape of five other members of the Clinton family from a similar fate have caused the residents of a section of the Bronx and a thorough investigation of the case has been begun by the Board of Health of that borough.

The girl was the four-year-old daughter of Charles Clinton, of 1010 Fairmount place, and she was buried on last Wednesday. Her father and two sisters and her grandmother are only recovering from the effects of the poisoning, not one member of the family having escaped.

It is thought that the ptomaines came from a can of tomatoes half filled which Mrs. Clinton had left all of one night open in the refrigerator.

Health officers are searching various grocery stores in the neighborhood trying to locate poisonous food. Several may have their canned goods confiscated. Neighbors of the Clintons are afraid to buy canned meat or vegetables.

It was on Thursday a week ago that Miriam Clinton was suddenly stricken with a violent attack of vomiting. Dr. Frank Adams, of Boston avenue, West Farms, was called in. The child improved under his treatment.

Mr. Clinton went the same night to a card party at the house of John Robinson, in Mount Vernon, in the midst of the fun he was suddenly taken ill. He writhed in agony, and two physicians who were summoned declared he had been poisoned. Preparations to remove him to a hospital were in progress when he was taken home at once.

Just then this telegram was received from his wife: "Home alone at once. The two other children and mother are sick."

Several guests went home with the sick man when he had recovered consciousness. They found that in his absence his ten-year-old daughter Jennie, his seven-year-old daughter Loretta, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. McCarthy, had been stricken as he and Miriam Clinton had been.

In a few hours more Mrs. Clinton was taken to remain to nurse the stricken family. Physicians were called in and consultations held. Mrs. Clinton so far recovered that she was able to get up on Friday. The doctors were unable to save Miriam, who died in a few days. Mr. Clinton and Jennie were barely saved.

FATAL GLASS OF WHISKEY. King Took a Drink as a Vertigo Cure—Lost His Valuable.

George King, thirty-six years old, of Montclair, N. J., was honorably acquitted in the Joe Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day of the charge of intoxication. Mr. King is a prominent merchant of Montclair.

He went to Williamsburg yesterday to collect the rents of his houses on Havemeyer street. He told the magistrate that while walking toward the ferry about dusk he was seized with vertigo, to which he is subject. He went into a saloon and bought a glass of whiskey. He remembers leaving the saloon, but nothing more until he awoke in the Eastern District Hospital.

Mr. King was found at 3 o'clock on Monday on the sidewalk of an alley. He was unconscious, and when taken to the Eastern District Hospital he was found with the symptoms of an opiate.

During Mr. King's confinement, the saloon-keeper, who had sold him the whiskey, was taken into custody and a $500 bond was taken from him. The saloon-keeper was released on $500 bond.

TORONTO, Dec. 11.—The Royal Canadian Yacht Club has informed the Chicago Yacht Club that the date suggested by that club for the Canada Cup race, the latter part of August, is not satisfactory.

This would be after the America's Cup race and the latter interest would be taken in the event. Aug. 2 would suit the Canadians.

Mrs. Trisky and Daughter Arraigned for Shoplifting.

Annie Trisky, eleven years old, with two long braids of yellow hair, and wearing a short skirt, and looking more like a child of nine years, was arraigned before Magistrate Hogan in the Yorkville Police Court to-day, charged with shoplifting.

The little girl did not seem to know what she had done, and looked wonderingly at her mother, who was a companion with her on the same charge.

Both mother and child were arrested yesterday afternoon in a big department store on Third avenue by Policemen Melner, of the East Sixty-seventh street station, at the instance of Miss Tilly Austin, the private detective employed in the store. Miss Austin said that she saw Mrs. Trisky take a large basket and hand it to the child.

The pair then went from counter to counter, and the woman, without any selection, picked up a number of articles and handed them to the child, who placed them in the basket. When the pair reached the door, the child was taken to the police station, the mother being placed in the room of the Gerry Society for the night.

While the aged woman was cleaning a lamp near the stove in her kitchen, the oil was ignited and flared up setting fire to her dress. She dropped the lamp and ran into the hallway screaming for help. On the same floor, in the rear, live John Marshall and his wife. They ran to her rescue. Mrs. Brehm throwing her arms around Marshall, whose clothing also caught fire.

Mrs. Marshall's presence of mind probably saved her husband's life. She grabbed a heavy blanket and wrapped it around his chest, and Mr. Marshall smothered the flames.

Mrs. Brehm was terribly burned and was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital. While Marshall's hair, beard and eyebrows were singed off close to the flesh.

LONG CHASE FOR PRISONER. Man Accused of Murder in Russia Caught in Pennsylvania.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 11.—After a year's search detectives have arrested Stanislaus Barabovitch, who is charged with the murder of a woman in Russian Poland. He escaped after the time and fled to this country, but the Russian police traced him through his wife, who followed him about four months ago.

A workman saw a detective come on here, and after good work managed to locate his man in Plymouth. The prisoner will be taken to New York for a hearing before the extradition commission.

CHICAGO POLICE CHIEF OUT. Resignation Held by Mayor Harrison Not Explained.

The resignation has not been acted on, and a decision probably will not be taken for some little time.

Mayor Harrison, when seen, refused to discuss the matter.
